It starts with about 11 months left before the movie's scheduled theatrical premiere — with only about 20 percent of the film completed. The first three episodes focus heavily on the big third act musical number "Show Yourself" and how it initially didn't work. The series also reveals how Disney relies on a brain trust of animated filmmakers to provide feedback. The directors and writers of movies like Wreck-It Ralph, Moana, Zootopia and The Little Mermaid watch rough cuts of the movie and give honest critiques of what's working, what's not and what could be improved. There are also very emotional moments involving the voice cast members, like when Kristen Bell talks about how the song "The Next Right Thing" helped her deal with her own depression and anxiety.Disney Plus is becoming the home for fascinating making-of documentaries. This spring, the streaming service released Disney Gallery: The Mandalorian, which took fans behind the scenes of the hit Star Wars live-action series (including how Baby Yoda came to life).Here's everything you need to know about how to watch Into the Unknown: Making Frozen 2 online.How to watch Into the Unknown: Making Frozen 2 in the US, Canada and the UKInto the Unknown: Making Frozen 2 came out today (Friday, June 26) exclusively on Disney Plus.
